JAPANESE REPLY IS STILL AWAITED

All Powers Formally Invited to Disarmament Conference Accept With Single Exception

ITALY'S ANSWER RECEIVED

Japanese Foreign Office is Quoted as Saying Attitude of Government is Unchanged

(By United Press)

Japan, the sole remaining power which has not accepted President Harding's invitation to the Washington disarmament conference, endorses the principle of disarmament, but is not ready to make an official statement regarding the conference.

This was revealed today in a United Press dispatch from Tokio, quoting the Japanese foreign office.

Meantime, an effort was under way to have the Washington conference supersede the disarmament activities of the League of Nations.

When the disarmament committee of the League meets Saturday in Paris, the French delegation will ask that action be deferred until after the Harding meeting.

This strengthened the growing disposition to regard the disarmament conference as a preliminary step toward Harding's proposed "association of nations" as a substitute for the League.

Italy's reply to Pres. Harding's invitation to the disarmament conference was received at the state department today.

Acceptances have now been received from all of the powers concerned except Japan.

Opposition is cropping up in Great Britain to Lloyd George acting as head of the delegation to Washington, despite the fact Premier Briand is certain to represent France.

American Senators are planning to thrash out the Pacific problem before that question is taken up in conjunction with disarmament.

Jap Attitude Unchanged

Tokio, July 13.—The Japanese foreign office, in an interview today stated that the favorable attitude of the Japanese government toward the principle of disarmament already announced several times by Baron Uchida, remains unchanged.

The government, however, is not ready as yet to make a direct statement regarding its position toward the Harding proposal.

The Japanese press, the commercial organizations and the public generally is favorable to Japan entering the conference but the political leaders are rather indefinite in their answers, wanting to know the score of the conference before committing themselves.

Replies Still Lacking

Washington, July 13.—Official replies from Japan and Italy to President Harding's invitation to a disarmament conference were still lacking today.

However, government officials here were confident that both these powers would accept.

President Harding has started a movement which may develop a practical "association of nations" and replace the treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations as the foundation for future international relations, according to belief here today.

A new treaty among the United States and the other four great powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, which later probably would be ratified by other nations, is expected to be worked out in the conference to assemble here within a few months.

This treaty would be principally an agreement for limitation and probably eventually reduction of staggering armaments.

Such a treaty would also be expected to contain a number of broad policies for settlement of major questions of irritation now mainly involved.

Such a treaty would be expected to contain a number of broad policies for settlement of major questions of irritation now mainly involved in the pact. The sense of these policies probably would be to guarantee the "open door" and equal opportunity not only in the Pacific but through-

TRUCE BROKEN AT BELFAST

Two Constables And Three Civilians Wounded—Conference Tomorrow

Belfast, July 13.—The Irish truce was broken here today when rioting broke out on Vere street. Two constables and three civilians were wounded.

London, July 13.—The Irish peace negotiations will open formally at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, it was officially announced today. This first meeting of Premier Lloyd George and Eamon De Valera will be held at the former's offices at 10 Downing street, it was stated.

DEFENDANT COLLAPSES DURING MURDER TRIAL

Mrs. Kaber Falls to Floor and is Carried From Court Room During Brother's Testimony

COURT ADJOURNED TWO HOURS

Cleveland, O., July 13.—Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber was carried out of the court room today when she collapsed during the testimony being given by her brother, Charles Brickel. Brickel was being questioned concerning his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Brickel, also under indictment for the murder of the wealthy Daniel Kaber.

Brickel was asked if his mother had set fire to the Kaber home. He replied that his mother did not set fire to the house, that she was sick at the time and that "they could prove it."

Mrs. Kaber who had been watching her brother intently, fell from her chair to the floor hysterically, when her brother reached this point in his testimony. She collapsed and was carried from the court room. When she was revived, Mrs. Kaber cried: "Marian, Marian."

Marian is her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, 21, also under first degree indictment in connection with the Kaber murder.

After Mrs. Kaber has been revived, Trial Judge Bernon talked with her.

"What do you want to do?" Bernon asked.

"I'll do whatever you want me to do," Mrs. Kaber answered. "I'll testify now, if you want me to."

Judge Bernon thought, however, that a couple of hours rest would do the accused woman good and adjourned until the afternoon.

FOUR LOCAL BOYS DENIED ADMISISON

Glen Ruddell, William Sparks, Havens Frazee and Clayton Cooper Not Permitted to Enter Camp

NO REASON FOR REFUSAL

Four Rushville boys today received word that they had been denied admission to the citizens military training camp which will open at Camp Knox, Kentucky, the latter part of this month.

Clayton Cooper, Havens Frazee, William Sparks and Glen Ruddell who were among the Rushville boys that had applied for the training, received notification today from headquarters that their applications were turned down, and no explanation was given, except that they were not among the lucky ones designated for the month's training.

Tracy Cross, another boy from here who applied, has not received any word, as far as could be learned today.

The situation here presents an unusual thing, because of the small number of applicants, and without anyone being selected as yet. At Newcastle over 50 applications were mailed, and yesterday five had been accepted, which seems to make the counties unbalanced.

ATTENTION CALLED TO NEW ROAD LAW

Patrol Maintenance Measure Expected to Effect Tremendous Saving In The County

ROAD SUPERINTENDENT'S DUTY

Required to File Report Before Tax Levy is Made, Estimating Cost of Maintenance

Attention of good roads boosters in Rush county and more particularly the county commissioners, is directed to the new road patrol maintenance law passed by the last legislature through the efforts of the Hoosier State Automobile Association as the result of an opinion just given out by Attorney General U. S. Lesh. The attorney general agrees that the road patrol law is designed to preserve a road after it is once made good and in this will affect a tremendous financial saving throughout the state.

The state automobile association, points out that the new law gives counties a real working plan for the maintenance of its main highways. There was some doubt in the mind of some people as to when the law's provisions must be put in operation. Mr. Noblet requested an opinion on this point from the attorney general's office and Mr. Lesh writes as follows:

"Section 1 of the Acts of 1913, as amended by Sec. 1, of the Acts of 1921, provides that 'annually after this act takes effect, and at least thirty days before the road levy is fixed for the road repair funds, the county highway superintendent shall file with the county commissioners a report disclosing the ways and means which in his judgment should be employed during the coming year to take care of the roads under his supervision to the best advantage. In this report he shall indicate what roads under his supervisions should be maintained by patrol methods, being careful for this purpose to select those roads which are most traveled and thereby require more attention than the side roads.'"

"This act came into force May 31, 1921. The tax levy for the road repair fund is required to be made by the County Council on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in September each year. It follows that the county road superintendents should, as soon as possible, and not later than thirty days prior to the time the tax levy for the road repair fund is made, make out and file with the county commissioners the report required by the act of 1921 and include in it what in his best judgment are the best ways and means to be employed during the coming year to care for and maintain the highways and indicate what roads under his supervision should be maintained by patrol methods, selecting those the most traveled. This report forms the basis to be considered in making the levy."

The Hoosier Automobile association, having sponsored this law, declares its operation will not only save from $50 to $100 a year in wear and tear on each motor vehicle, but will prove a vast economy to each county and therefore the association is urging that every community see to it that this law is made operative in their section. "It is the law; the road superintendent and the commissioners are required to follow its provisions, but there is a chance for unintentional oversight on this new regulation unless good roads boosters everywhere assist us in pointing out the requirements of this law," declared Mr. Noblet. "Here is a real good roads machine, at last," says he. "Let's see to it that every county in Indiana puts this machinery into operation this fall. The road superintendents have only a short time in which to make out their recommendations and we urge them to do so at once."

ROTARIANS ENJOY HOSPITALITY HERE

Approximately 50 Members of Indianapolis Club Entertained Following Ball Game

A FRIED CHICKEN DINNER

Talk Runs Largely to Base Ball, Rushville Essaying Role of Victor Though Vanquished

Approximately fifty Indianapolis Rotarians who came to Rushville Tuesday afternoon for the baseball game between the teams representing the two clubs, remained for the regular meeting of the Rushville Rotary club, which was held last night instead of Tuesday noon, the regular time, at the Social club.

The visitors were treated to a regular fried chicken dinner, with hot rolls, good gravy and everything that goes with fried chicken, and the way they consumed the food was mute testimony of their appreciation of the dinner.

L. L. Allen, president of the Rushville club, presided, and Judge Will M. Sparks welcomed the Indianapolis Rotarians. Walter Pittsford immediate past district governor, responded in behalf of the Indianapolis club.

The talk ran largely to base ball, but the score, 29 to 8, was not mentioned. The real score, of course was $29.50 for the public school milk fund, to which all the proceeds went. The attendance at the game was cut short by threatening weather. There was a heavy rain two hours before the game, and even after the contest started, some rain fell, but not enough to stop it.

After the eighty-five Rotarians gathered around the table had put out of sight all of the good things to eat, the first ceremony was the presentation of an immense birthday cake with candles and a bunch of roses to Earl H. Payne, immediate past president and the "daddy" of the Rushville Rotary club. It chanced that the date of the Indianapolis Rotarians visit and his birthday anniversary fell on the same day.

Mr. Payne expressed his appreciation for being thus remembered in a short speech.

Judge Sparks made the visitors feel at home in welcoming them to Rushville. He pointed to the value of the associations coming from such joint meetings and emphasized that the ball game was only a pretext or an excuse for getting together.

The spirit of Rotary was eulogized by the speaker—a spirit, he said, which was not originated but is stressed by Rotary in such a way as to make men appreciate that their real worth to the community is not what they have in dollars and cents, but what they actually mean to the place in which they live, minus all their worldly accumulations.

Judge Sparks praised Indianapolis as the capital of Indiana and said that it was the greatest inland city in the United States—and after the applause had subsided, he made Rushville the single exception.

Walter Pittsford voiced the hearty appreciation of the Indianapolis Rotarians for the very cordial reception they had received here and for the entertainment which had been provided. He remarked his handicap at being compelled to speak following Judge Sparks, whom he praised highly as a living exponent of Rotary ideals. He spoke briefly, too, on the mission of each Rotarian to elevate his craft or profession, pointing out that in Rotary all were on one basis, he the "humble pie baker" being classified alongside the professions.

Hugh Mauzy was to speak on "Why We Won the Game," and he attempted to stick to his subject by referring to the fact that to the vanquished really belonged the victory because they had been able to take defeat gracefully and by it would profit in the end. Mr. Mauzy also referred to the fine qualities of Indianapolis as the capital of the state and said that the Rushville Rotary club would be one of the factors in combatting the petty jealousies which arouse among the smaller cities of the state with respect to the capital.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE

Fairview Burial Association Sues E. M. Vandeventer Today

The Fairview Burying Ground, a corporation, has filed suit in the circuit court against Emory M. Vandeventer and Bernice M. Vandeventer, the suit being to quiet the title of real estate. The cemetery association alleges that the defendants claim an interest in land which is a portion of the cemetery, and the plaintiffs ask that the court set aside any holdings that they maintain, and quiet the title of the land in favor of the plaintiff.

Aside from the filing of a few suits this month, business in the circuit court has been unusually quiet which is in keeping with the vacation term during the summer months.

KIWANIS TEAM WINS ONE AND LOSES ONE

Defeats Connersville 10 to 0 in Five Innings and Loses to Richmond 8 to 4 in Four Innings

JOINT PICNIC AT NEWCASTLE

The Rushville Kiwanis base ball team won one and lost one in the series of base ball games at the joint picnic of Kiwanis clubs at Newcastle Tuesday, winning the first contest from Connersville, 10 to 0 and losing the second one to Richmond, 8 to 0.

Thirty-two members of the Rushville club, together with their families, attended the picnic, making a delegation of more than a hundred from here who enjoyed the day. Richmond, Muncie, Connersville, Newcastle and Rushville participated in the picnic. A basket dinner was served in Memorial park at noon, the Newcastle club providing coffee, ice cream and soft drinks. The park is equipped with playground equipment which provided amusement for the children. Each of the ladies present was presented with a rose, grown in Newcastle.

The first ball game of the afternoon was won by Richmond from Muncie, 12 to 2. Rushville then defeated Connersville, 10 to 0, and it was proposed the winners play Rushville and Connersville only played five innings, and the third and final game went only four innings. Nick Tompkins pitched for Rushville and Bill Young caught until the last inning of the second game when Earl Osborne relieved Tompkins and Tompkins went behind the bat.

ARMY PLANES SINK GERMAN DESTROYER

Send G-102 to Bottom After Show-ering Her With Bombs For Hour and 17 Minutes

90 BOMBS HURLED AT HER

(By United Press)

Aboard U. S. S. Henderson, off Newport News, Va., July 13.—Army airplanes sunk the G-102, which was one of the destroyers in the German navy, after showering her with bombs for one hour and seventeen minutes.

The destroyer was the largest craft yet used in any of the tests when actual bombs were hurled, as they were today. In addition the aircraft had to operate farther from their base than they have in any other of the tests.

A total of ninety bombs were hurled at the destroyer.

On Friday American destroyers will try to sink two other German boats by gunfire. Next Monday and Wednesday comes the climax to the bombing tests when the cruiser Frankfurt and the battleship Ostfriesland will be the targets of American air raiders.

OPPOSITION TO PREMIER GROWING

Lloyd George's Enemies Seeking to Prevent His Heading Disarmament Conference Delegation

BALFOUR BEING MENTIONED

Times Opposes Premier's or Lord Curzon's Participation—Most Distrusted Paper Says

By ED L. KEEN

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

London, July 13.—Opposition to Premier Lloyd George as head of the British delegation to the Washington disarmament conference was growing today.

The premier's political enemies were marshalling their forces to forestall him from assuming the leadership.

In well informed circles Arthur Balfour is being mentioned as possible chief of the British delegation.

The Times in a leading editorial following up Viscount Northcliffe's interview with the United Press, strongly opposed participation of either Premier Lloyd George or Lord Curzon in the conference. The latter was characterized as particularly undesirable because of his "pompous, pretentious manner and business incapacity, as exhibited in the present state of his department."

"His docility to the premier's behests unfit him to discharge the responsibility which his mission will impose," the Times said.

Regarding the premiers, the newspaper declared:

"Of all the statesmen in Europe, he probably is the most distrusted. It is notorious that no government and no statesman who has had dealings with him puts the smallest confidence in him."

The Times approves opening the conference on armistice day, but warns against prejudicing so "noble a scheme by injudicious haste."

Mutual Confidence Needed

London, July 13.—The most important thing to be observed in the disarmament conference is mutual confidence among the participating nations, Viscount Northcliffe, famous British publisher, declared in an interview with the United Press today.

Without this, he said, the conference can be expected to accomplish nothing and added:

"There must be straight, honest dealing, free from any kind of maneuvering."

Northcliffe was asked for his opinion regarding the conference and reports that the American government had intended to withhold the invitation for a short time but was forced to expedite it because of diplomatic maneuvers in the London foreign office.

"President Harding's invitation is a great call from a great man to the chief powers of the world to join America in finding means to safeguard peace in the world," he said.

"It should be accepted everywhere in the most grateful and helpful spirit."

"As to the story of maneuvers in the British foreign office I am afraid it is substantially true. Politicians who now manage our foreign affairs seem to have thought the president's origin suggestion a fine opening for

THREE BILLION IN WAGES LOST IN YEAR

Inactivity in Construction Work is Blamed by Speaker at Real Estate Boards Meeting

INFLATION ALSO RESPONSIBLE

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 13.—Three billion dollars in wages was lost by building trades laborers during the last twelve months, because of the inactivity in construction work, Daniel Crawford, Jr., Philadelphia, told the National Association of Real Estate Boards meeting here today.

The inflation which he said bankers permitted between the spring of 1919 and of 1920, was blamed for the tie up by Crawford.

"Not more than 25 per cent of the $6,125,000,000 worth of building contemplated for this year will be started," the speaker stated.

Laborers, he said, must consent to a wage reduction before the building industry can be fully revived.

Josiah Kirby, president of the Discount Company of Cleveland, said that although commodity prices would never reach the 1914 level, a "satisfactory deflation was taking place."

"America cannot now experience a sustained business depression," he said.

YOUTHFUL PRISONER DENIES CONFESSION

Willie Stevenson, 9, Repudiates Statement He Killed Henry B. Levins, 2, at Dayton

QUARREL AT SWIMMING HOLE

(By United Press)

Dayton, Ohio, July 13.—Willie Stevenson, 9, on trial in Juvenile court on charges of killing eight year old Henry B. Levins, fought with all of his boyish energy for freedom today. Although Judge R. W. Baggott and Police officers say Willie admitted to them when first arrested that he had killed his playmate, the youthful prisoner vigorously denied the confession in open court today.

Two other boys who were said to have been with Willie when the Levins boy was killed, were held as witnesses. They are Vincent Hall and George Bayham, both 9 years of age.

Henry and Willie quarrelled. Willie is said to have struck Henry with an iron bar, breaking his neck. The four boys were at the edge of Bimmas Pond, planning to go swimming. They stripped Henry's clothes from his body, tied a rock to his hands and rolled him into the water, according to the authorities.

Dr. Xene Smith former police commissioner, and two other men are under indictment for the shooting and are preparing to make a hard fight for acquittal.

Traffic in moonshine whisky is thought by the police to have been back of the shooting.

TO ESCAPE FROM MOTHER

Harlan Wells, Shelbyville, Steals to Get in Reform School

Shelbyville, Ind., July 13.—Twelve year old Harlan Wells broke into the boy's reform school at Plainfield to escape living with his mother. The boy took a motorcar from an automobile here so that he would be sent to the school he told the court.

The mother, Mrs. Richard Wells, recently served six months in the state woman's prison for mistreating the boy. Harlan told the court she showed him no affection and beat him without cause.

Senate Finance Committee Takes up Matter of Refunding Loans

Washington, July 13.—Refunding of the $10,000,000,000 allied war debt to the U. S. must be settled before the soldier bonus bill can be enacted, Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate finance committee, declared today.

Accepting President Harding's suggestion in his message to the senate that enactment of the bonus bill depends upon tax reduction, the refunding of the war debt, and the adjustment of foreign loans. Penrose called a meeting of the finance committee today to consider his bill giving Secretary Mellon broad powers in refunding the allied loans.

Disabled Soldiers Neglected

The Kansas City "Journal" is vigorous in demanding better attention to the needs of disabled soldiers and cites one instance which illustrates the too frequent attitude of government officials toward the men who suffered injury or disease as a result of their service in defence of the nation. According to the "Journal", the public health service has an office in Kansas City where the doctors are busy, but apparently the crowded condition of their work is due largely to waste of time. It is related that a soldier patient visited the offices to give one of the doctors a few facts in his case and was compelled to wait while the doctor repeatedly engaged in frivolous conversation over trivial matters with one of his office associates.

The instance mentioned by the "Journal" is probably more typical than the rare cases of extreme cruelty through gross neglect of a suffering patient, but it illustrates the frame of mind in which too many bureaucrats in the government service meet the public. The disabled soldier occupies a double position in his relation to the government official. The official is supposed to be a public servant, and, therefore, is in a sense a servant of every citizen who has business with the government. The disabled soldier is not only one of the sovereign citizens of this Republic, but he is one of the saviors of the Republic, and is entitled to double consideration on that account.

Investigation would probably show that many of the doctors in the public health service are young practitioners, perhaps in most instances recent graduates who have had no experience except as internes in hospitals. They have not learned to take their work seriously and too frequently have less real sympathy for the patient than a veterinarian would display in taking care of a dumb animal. The callousness of the average interne is almost proverbial. And yet it is probable that since old practitioners do not desire to give up their practice in order to enter the government service, a large proportion of the employees of the public health service are of the frivolous kind who deem it an evidence of proficiency to treat their work with an air of levity. Unfortunately, the soldiers are the victims.

It will be remembered that early in the war—during the training period—there was trouble over this same attitude of some doctors toward government patients, but there was no relief until prominent senators denounced the situation and cited specific instances in support of their charges. Some dismissals from the service resulted and there should have been some court martial proceedings and some penitentiary imprisonments as well.

It is needless to say that neglect of the disabled soldiers will not knowingly be overlooked by President Harding. The frequent visits the President and Mrs. Harding have made to the hospital at Washington and the efforts they have personally put forth to make life pleasanter for the sick or injured veterans leaves no room for doubt that the Chief Executive fully appreciates the obligation the government bears to the disabled soldiers and intends that this obligation shall be fulfilled in a grateful and generous spirit. Cases of neglect and indifference that come to his attention will undoubtedly be followed by suitable punishment for the guilty.

The Presidential Vetoes

Congress appropriates the money necessary for conducting the affairs of the government of the United States. That money comes from the pockets of the people.

The president has the right to veto an appropriation bill as a whole, but he can not veto an objectionable item of expenditure in that bill and yet approve the remainder.

Presidents are often called upon to approve appropriation bills that contain items of expenditure that are very obnoxious to a great class of the people, items which they consider prejudicial to the welfare of the country as a whole, that serve but little purpose, and that are forced into the bill at the last minute upon demand of some powerful politician who has an axe to grind.

If the president disapproves the bill because of the one objectionable item he jeopardizes the affairs of government, for without funds the government can not function.

On the other hand, if he approves any portion of the bill he must approve all of it, including the objectionable feature.

While we are changing our budget system we should advance even further and expand the veto prerogative.

The president should not be held personally responsible for conditions that are above and beyond his control.

Persons who pride themselves on their skill in predicting weather conditions will never lose their reputation if they will always forecast rain when the Rushville Rotary club plays ball.

We intended to say it, but an exchange beat us to it. It says the stock of June brides was small in quantity, but that the deficiency was made up in quality.

There are very few fools in this world. They generally have enough sense left to consider others more afflicted than themselves.

It is universally admitted that the Lord created but one perfect man, but there are many millions who claim to be No. 2.

Germany Able to Pay
(Boston Transcript)

By paying the second of the twenty $10,000,000 three months' Treasury notes which she promised to pay on June 1, Germany has given concrete evidence of her ability to meet the reparations program as drawn up by the allies. The first payment was made about two weeks ago, and yesterday's instalment brought the totals of her payments to $200,500,000 gold marks, leaving some 800,000,000 marks yet to be paid by August 1 under the terms of the reparations ultimatum of the allies. The unpaid balance represents a considerable sum; and Germany may find it difficult to raise this sum of money before August 1. The reservoirs of her material resources are nevertheless being tapped, and German gold has begun to flow toward the Allies. That is the really significant thing.

With the passage of time, it is bound to become easier for Germany to meet future instalments of the allies' reparations bill. Her industrial recovery has been the wonder of recent visitors to Germany almost without exception. Not only does the machinery of her national industry stand virtually untouched by the ravages of war, but her foreign trade is growing rapidly in volume. These two facts are certain to simplify enormously the problem of providing funds to meet her obligations to the allies. A German daily growing more prosperous, will become daily better able to do her proper part in repairing the damage done by her troops in their wartime occupation of Belgium and Northern France.

If the remaining instalments are turned over to the allied governments when they fall due, France and Belgium should speedily advance along the highway of national prosperity. The object of the reparations program is the application of the 'spare deal', and Germany is now giving indication of her willingness to pay, so far as she is able, the debts which the actions of her former rulers have put upon her.

HE'S THE HAPPIEST MAN IN INDIANA

This is How Terre Haute Business Man Says He Feels Since Wife's Recovery

"I believe I am the happiest man in Indiana since Tanlac restored my wife to such perfect health," said Grover Lambert, 24 South Sixth St., Terre Haute, Ind., proprietor of the Terre Haute Barber Supply Co., and a highly respected business man.

"My wife had the 'flu' about a year ago and I thought she would never get over the after effects, as it left her in an almost helpless condition. She had no appetite, what little she ate did not agree with her and she was just as weak as a baby. Her kidneys bothered her constantly and she complained that her back hurt her. She would stay up for a few days and then would have to go back to bed and remain there for weeks at a time. I was so worried over her I could hardly attend to business and was discouraged too, as I could see she only had a slim chance of recovering.

"I never dreamed any medicine could do what Tanlac has done for her. She eats anything and everything she wants now, never has a pain or an ache and sleeps like a child at night. Her eyes are bright the color has come back in her cheeks and she is picking up in weight every day. In fact she is the very picture of health. I have got the best of reasons for recommending Tanlac and I do so heartily."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Drug Co.

ROTARIANS LOSE BY A LARGE SCORE

Local Ball Team Defeated by Indianapolis Sluggers Tuesday Afternoon in 9 Inning Contest

CARR HITS ONE OVER FENCE

Visiting Pitcher Given Good Support While Errors Back of Harold Pearce Prove Costly

The Indianapolis Rotarians piled up a big score here Tuesday afternoon against the Rushville Rotarians the visitors getting a total of 29 runs, while the local Rotarians put across eight tallies, in a full nine inning contest.

The visiting team were sluggers, and pounded out 24 hits, and Charley Carr pitching for them, was given good support which seemed lacking with Harold Pearce, who was on the mound for Rushville.

The game started in a drizzle and Indianapolis put 7 runs on the score board in the first inning. Several errors were responsible for some of the scores, but seven hits also were counted up in this inning, after the team had batted around.

Rushville got back two runs in the first inning when Mauzy and Griesser scored. Mauzy hit for two bases, and Griesser was safe on an error. Wyatt was out at second and Easley was given a walk when he was hit by a wild throw. Harold brought in Griesser, when he singled, and the next two were outs.

The next inning was the only one that Indianapolis didn't make a score in, and only four batters faced Pearce. Rushville almost evened up the score in the last of the second, when four more runs were added, making the score 7 to 6.

Four long drives, an error and fast base running netted the runs in this inning. In the third, fourth and fifth innings the visitors scored one run in each, and held Rushville with blanks, putting the score 10 to 6 in their favor at the start of the sixth inning.

The local Rotarians did not give up fighting, and attempted to overcome the small lead, but Indianapolis had another big inning in the first of the sixth when seven more runs came in. The feature of this inning was a home run drive over left field fence by Carr, the Indianapolis pitcher, with the bases full.

Rushville made their last two runs in the seventh when Mauzy and Griesser again scored after they got base with hits, and Wyatt smacked the ball for three bases, bringing them in home. With no outs, Wyatt died on third when three other batters went out in order.

The real balloon ascension took place in the ninth inning when Indianapolis went big with their sticks and after the inning had ended nine runs were counted, and the visitors

MRS. STILLMAN GOES ON THE OFFENSIVE

Will Attempt to Prove That Husband and Franklin H. Leeds Were One and Same Person

FLORENCE LEEDS' "HUSBAND"

Poughkeepsie, N. Y. July 13—Mrs. James A. Stillman today took the offensive in her husband's divorce suit.

As the hearing reopened here before referee Gleason, Mrs. Stillman was ready for a vigorous effort to prove that Stillman and Franklin Harold Leeds, "husband" of Mrs. Florence Lawlor Leeds, were one and the same man.

A few more of Stillman's witnesses were to be heard first to conclude the presentation of his case wherein he alleges his wife was unduly friendly with Fred K. Beauvais, Indian guide.

Then Mrs. Stillman's attorneys were ready to put Dr. James O. Gilvie on the stand. He is the family physician of the Lawlor family and has known Mrs. Florence Lawlor Leeds since childhood. Dr. O'Gilvie, it was said, will be questioned concerning happenings in connection with the birth of Jay Ward Leeds alleged to be the son of Stillman.

"That it why I regret that Mr. Lloyd George's statement on President Harding's proposal in Commons Monday was not more generous.

LEAGUE MUST GIVE WAY TO DISARMAMENT

Scheduled to Take up Discussion Saturday, But Will Likely be Ignored Entirely

FRENCH PRESS ENTHUSIASTIC

(By United Press)
Paris, July 13.—A motion to defer all action by the League of Nations regarding disarmament until after the Washington conference will be made by the French delegates as soon as the League disarmament committee convenes here Saturday, it was learned today.

This action was interpreted in official circles as the most important move to emasculate the present league and mark time pending presentation of President Harding's ideas for an association of nations, inasmuch as disarmament is regarded as the League's most vital function.

Semi official confirmation has been obtained of the fact that Premier Briand probably will represent France in Washington.

Paris, July 13.—The League of Nations must give way to the Washington conference summoned by President Harding, it was believed in diplomatic circles here today.

The League was scheduled to take up the discussion of disarmaments Saturday. In view of the fact that such a discussion would be more or less perfunctory without American participation, it was assumed that the matter either would be ignored entirely or would be handled on the basis of a preliminary to the Washington conference.

The entire French press was enthusiastic over Premier Briand's acceptance of Harding's invitation. The newspapers also regarded any activities by the League regarding disarmament in a secondary light.

JAPANESE REPLY IS STILL AWAITED

out the world. That policy has been the keynote of Harding administration so far. Agreement on this policy would abrogate as unnecessary existing pacts and agreements in the far east among them the Anglo-Japanese alliance the Lansing-Ishii agreement, recognizing Japan's "special position" in the east and the Root-Takahira agreement guaranteeing the "open door" in China.

Such a policy would naturally go hand in hand with disarmament as tending to remove the cause of war.

It also might make it unnecessary for the United States to enter the treaty of Versailles, which would become almost purely an European instrument.

Operated by a user's feet, an Englishman has invented apparatus that enables an armless person to feed himself, write, light cigarettes and perform other feats.

* Tries to Save Brother; Drowns *

Clinton, Ind., July 13—Vern Tresner, 19, tried to save his brother, Lloyd, 25, from drowning in the Wabash river and they both sank. The elder brother's body was recovered, but the river was still being dragged today for Vern. Lloyd's wife was one of the party on the river bank and saw him drown.

DENIED ADMISSION

New York, July 13—James Barns of New York, famous professional who represented the United States in the recent open golf championship, was barred from re-entering the United States today. Barns, although he lived here 16 years, had taken out only his first papers and was classed technically as an alien under the new immigration law.

Neglect Keeps Doctors Busy

An eminent physician once said: "Were it not for people who neglect the early symptoms of disease, many doctors would have to find a new way to make a living."

Every winter doctors are busy calling on grippe and pneumonia patients because the first symptoms of colds were neglected.

Watch out for a cold this year. At the first sneeze and sniffle take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets. You'll stop the cold and feel like a new person in 24 hours. Never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them.—25c a box.

OFFICIALS OF PACKING COMPANIES TESTIFY

Tell What They Know About Juggling of $10,000,000 State Funds in Illinois Graft Probe

LOAN INTEREST IN QUESTION

(By United Press)

Springfield, Ill., July 13.—Officials of two large Chicago packing companies today told the Sagamon county grand jury what they knew about alleged juggling of $10,000,000 state funds by high officials.

The grand jury is probing charges that Governor Len Small and Lieutenant Governor Fred Sterling misused state funds while serving as state treasurers.

W. W. Sherman, assistant treasurer of Swift and Company, and Fred Crowell, treasurer of Armour & Company, were called before the investigators to present their company's side of the transaction whereby the packers obtained the huge loan.

The main questions to which Sherman and Crowell were understood to testify, were the amount of interest which their concerns paid in money and to whom it was paid. The state is supposed to have obtained only 2 per cent interest on the amount, although the packers are said to have paid about 8 1/2 per cent for the money.

The grand jury will have to decide whether the persons or firms who got the additional 6 1/2 per cent, were violating the statutes.

Officials of the Grant Park Bank told the grand jury of the depositing of the amount in that institution which Prosecuting officials claim existed only on paper. The loan to the packers was alleged to have been negotiated by the bank.

QUAKERS ARE GRATIFIED

Leaders of Friends in Richmond Discuss Disarmament Conference

Richmond, Ind., July 13.—Quaker leaders here expressed gratification today over the action of President Harding in calling a disarmament conference in Washington. Dr. Allen D. Hole, president of the American Friends Peace Society, said he considers this conference the forerunner of others which will limit armaments to such an extent that war will be impossible. Otherwise little will have been accomplished, he said toward international good will and confidence.

ROTARIANS ENJOY HOSPITALITY HERE

Continued from Page One Ralph F. Walker, catcher and manager of the visitors' team, was called upon, and after giving expression to appreciation for the treatment given the team, called on the team to give three cheers for the Rushville club, which were given lustily.

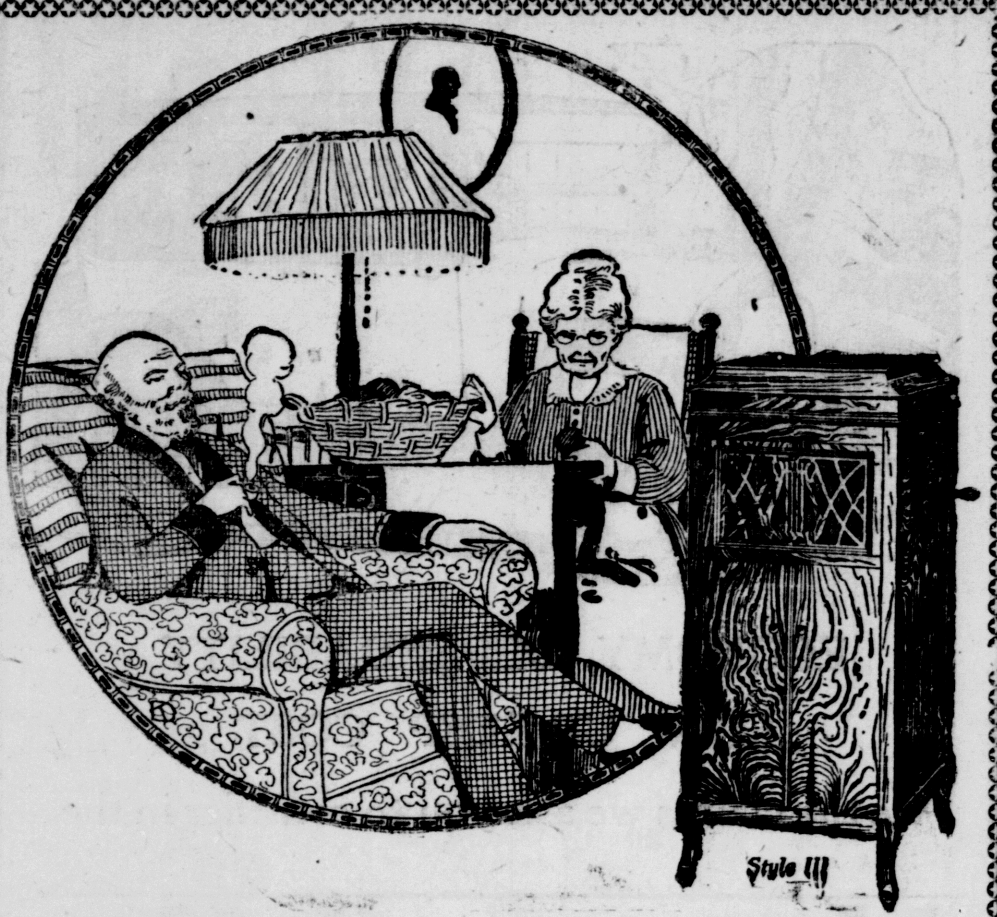

Charlie Carr, captain and pitcher and former big league ball player, said that the Indianapolis club's team had figured wisely when it scheduled all of its games away from home, because the host teams had always felt it their duty, in order to play well, to let Indianapolis win. He said that it was the hope of the Indianapolis club to create enough interest this year to organize a state Rotary club base ball league next summer.

Roy E. Harrold, who spoke briefly on the Rushville ball team, said the Rushville club had organized a team in self defense when challenged by the Rushville Kiwanis club and ever since had been the living embodiment of the Rotary motto, "Service above self," by providing opposing teams with the opportunity the joy of winning ball games. He advised the Indianapolis Rotarians if they knew of a team which was looking for a reputation for winning games, to refer them to Rushville Rotary, which will be obliging and will provide them with the opportunity to win one.

Ralph Edgerton, secretary of the Indianapolis club and Charles B. Riley, one of the visitors, both former residents of Rushville, were called upon and spoke briefly of the days they spent in this city. Mr. Riley praised Rushville as the best city of its size in the United States.

Will O. Feudner spoke a few minutes regarding the value of clubs getting together and becoming acquainted and voiced the belief that such associations would make better men of all Rotarians.

Harper J. Ransburg, Ray D. Brown and Wilbur Gruber, assistant secretary of the Indianapolis club, each responded with a few words when called upon.

"ABSOLUTE FREEDOM" HIS MOTHER'S WISH

Ms. Catherine Wheelwright, Whose Son, Eamon De Valera, is Negotiating For Ireland Gives Views

WANTS NO MORE OF ENGLAND

(By United Press)

Rochester, N. Y., July 13—Eamon De Valera will not be "so imprudent" as to accept anything but "absolute freedom" for Ireland, in the Irish peace negotiations, according to the belief expressed today by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Wheelwright.

"I do not believe my son or those associated with him as leaders would be so imprudent as to accept any terms than absolute freedom," Mrs. Wheelwright said, in an interview at her home here.

"We want no more of England, forever, but there might be some agreements made regarding invasion and so forth which would be satisfactory to both sides."

Interrupted in her work in the kitchen, Mrs. Wheelwright discussed Ireland and her son only reluctantly, saying she had rather wait "until it is all over and Ireland is free—the dream I have had since childhood."

Her hair is white, she has finely chiseled and intelligent features and is a picturesque personality. She said she came to this country from Ireland 42 years ago and made her last visit to that country 14 years ago. "Ireland has made a wonderful fight and has made it alone," she said. "Of course, she has friends on this side, but her fight has been alone, except that God has been on her side."

"I believe that Ireland is about to be free, and am praying that she will. Brave men have given their lives for the cause. The people of Ireland have endured untold suffering but those who gave their lives have not died in vain, I hope."

Dorothy Dalton, Princess

There are many thrills in "The Idol of the North", a Paramount picture starring Dorothy Dalton, which will be shown at the Princess Theatre today and tomorrow, for those who appreciate virile screen plays. The author, J. Clarkson Miller spins a fabric of life in the Canadian Northwest with its rough and ready atmosphere of the days when gold seekers crowded the "trail" to Alaska.

Much of the action of the story takes place in the Aurora Borealis saloon and dance hall of "Totem City" which is modeled after Dawson City famed in the days of the gold rush. It is in the Aurora Borealis that the "lost arts"—lost to this generation—of gambling and drinking, form the pictures background for the work of Miss Dalton and the players associated with her.

It was a difficult task for the property department of Paramount's eastern studio to gather the gambling paraphernalia for the picture but after scouring New York and vicinity for two weeks the "lay-out" was completed. Roulette outfits, faro banks, dice games, the old fashioned cone-shaped dice boxes, stud poker tables, and one card monte tables, formed the principal decoration for the Aurora Borealis and thousands of dollars of stage money changed hands while the camera recorded the process.

Furnishing the bar with bottles of the old familiar type was a comparatively easy task, for the property department, however. More than 1,000 bottles of all varieties were stored in the property departments "dry" bar. All that is necessary to make these containers look real is a little colored water or ginger ale. In years to come these bottles that are guarded so carefully will be relics of a long forgotten age. At present they are doing admirable duty on the back bar of the Aurora Borealis saloon in "The Idol of the North".

George Walsh, Mystic

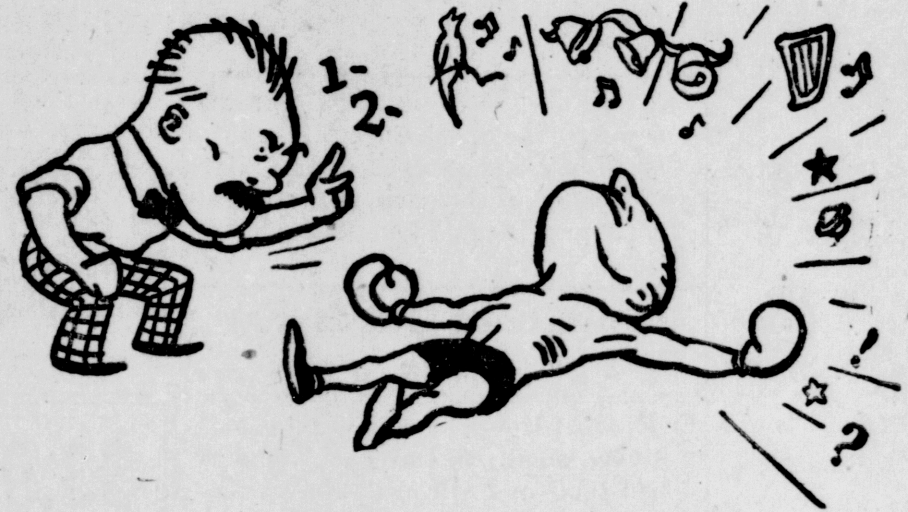

"Dynamite Allen," a stirring dramatic tale written by Thomas F. Fallon for the popular William Fox star, George Walsh, is a story which abounds in the unusual in the art of motion picture making. It deals with simple folk in the great mining regions of Pennsylvania. Scenes reflecting the activities of men who spend their days in the bowels of the earth were difficult to obtain. Great care and precaution were necessary to guard against accidents.

Dell Henderson, the director, realizing the importance of extreme care, adopted a unique method of ascertaining the atmospheric conditions at a certain point he wished to use but at which no men were at work at the time. He had a cage containing several birds, and attached to a rope, lowered into the mine, paying out several hundred feet. This was to find out if any gases existed at the bottom, as it were necessary to do considerable work there. When the bird cage was brought again to the surface all the birds were alive and happy. Then the company were lowered down the shaft.

"Dynamite" Allen comes to the Mystic Theatre Saturday. The title role is said to fit George Walsh like the proverbial glove—which means strenuous action a-plenty.
